Merchants Should Apply for Priority Ratings to Obtain Standardized Overseas Gift Boxes

Wholesale and retail merchants in North, Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Tennessee and Mississippi are urged to apply immediately to the War Production Board for priority ratings to purchase standardized overseas gift boxes.

Since the overseas Christmas mailing period is September 15 to October 15, it is desirable that the boxes be in the stores by September 1. J. H. Barnett, regional manager of WPB's Office of Civilian Requirements, said that reports show that up to the present merchants in Mississippi have not requested their proportionate number.

Developed by WPB's Paperboard Division in cooperation with the Army and Navy for use in sending Christmas packages to personnel in our Armed Forces abroad, the boxes are being distributed through priority ratings on the basis of information from the military services as to the number of men now serving overseas from each section of the country.

The OCR official said that stores may sell the boxes without any further WPB regulations, but they are asked to use them for display purposes. Any box that meets post office regulations for overseas mailing may be used, it was stated.

Retailers and jobbers should file WPB Form 2408 with the Paperboard Division, War Production Board, Washington, as designated on the form. Copies may be obtained from any WPB District Office.

American Red Cross

On the twenty-first of this month the Mobile Unit of the American Red Cross Blood Donor Service will again visit our community. This service is always eagerly awaited by those persons who are able to donate their blood for some service man. Interest is general among the populace about the functioning of this particular unit of the Red Cross Service, due we believe entirely to the very personal nature of the work. Many questions arise as to the distribution of this plasma, and to the many branches of the service where it is given. The local office of the Hancock County Chapter has lists of questions and answers furnished by National Headquarters containing most of the pertinent questions. However, we thought that for the benefit of those who are unable to reach the office and may be interested in some of the discussions which have reached us, we would give a few of the most interesting and informative:

A. Surgeons—Army and Navy.
Q. Who is calling for blood plasma?
Q. How much will be needed next year?

Q. Who collects blood for the Armed Forces?

A. American Red Cross Blood Donor Service is the only official collecting agency. Armed Forces include Army, Navy, Marines, Air Corps, Coast Guard, Merchant Marine, etc.

Q. Who is called upon to donate this blood?

A. Civilians—You and I—the Armed Forces do contribute, however, in large numbers.

Information has also reached us that there was controversy as to whether or not the Merchant Marine was included in this service. The above would supply the affirmative answer, however, for more explicit information we would like to quote from the following letter received from Dr. G. Canby Robinson, National Director, Blood Donor Service:

"In reply to your letter of May 30, I wish to say that it has been reported to me by the Surgeon General's Office that the Army has assigned 20,000 units of plasma to the Merchant Marine through the War Shipping Administration. I do not of course, know anything about its ultimate distribution, but we agreed with the Army that it would be proper to have the plasma made available to the sailors who are risking their lives in carrying supplies to foreign fields of battle."

The war today is moving very rapidly. We hope that the end is just around the corner, but remember that the Allies, your men and boys are waging an offensive Blitz today. That means many more wounded than previously. Statistics are showing that in the battle of Normandy alone, the toll has been greater than in World War 1. Casualties are reduced by the thousands because of the plasma that has been made available by the folks back home. Your Chapter is looking for you to make this coming Blood Bank 100 percent for your community, for your boys out there. . . will you be among those present? . . .

ATTENTION—Surgical Dressing Workers, the new shipment received this week of 4 x 4 sterile dressings to be made by this Chapter has been doubled. The former assignment consisted of 18,000 dressings per month. Within the next thirty days we must complete and ship 36,000 bandages. This means work. Real work that is bound to prove tiresome, but there are many thousands of bleeding men from home depending on you women to keep them supplied with the dressings to bind the wounds which they have received in battle. The rooms are open daily, the location is the Masonic Temple Bldg., on Main Street. Please plan your work so that some time may be given to this important branch of the Red Cross Service.

Volunteers For Navy Should Not Delay In Filing Applications

Navy recruiting headquarters in Jackson yesterday reported that although the Mississippi quota for 17-year-old voluntary enlistments had been extended to meet the new, and perhaps final need for 383,000 additional men, that those youths contemplating Navy enlistment should not delay in calling at Navy recruiting stations to file their applications.

It was stated that backlogs or waiting lists were now being exhausted as rapidly as limited quotas permitted and that those 17-year-olds who called at recruiting stations now would be the first granted enlistment as the Navy released more lenient state quotas.

The possibility exists that the number of 17-year-olds allowed to enlist in Mississippi during the next few months would not be large in view of announcements that the bulk of the additional 383,000 men needed in 1944 would enter the Navy through the Selective Service System.

Norwood Straughn Killed In Action

Mrs. Wallace Bontemps received news this week that her brother, Norwood Straughn had been killed in action on July 10 in France.

He entered the service as a volunteer on June 6, 1941 and was in the Fourth Infantry Division of the Fourth Reconnaissance Troop. He went overseas, in January of this year and took part in the invasion.

He was a native of New Orleans and was a son of Stephen Straughn and the late Mrs. Straughn. The family are former residents of Bay St. Louis and Norwood attended school here and lived here for thirteen years. Before entering the service he was associated with his brothers in the Landscape Gardening business in New Orleans. He was thirty-one years old.

He is survived by his father, two sisters Mrs. Isabelle Straughn of New Orleans and Mrs. Wallace Bontemps of Bay St. Louis; three brothers Richard and Stephen Straughn of New Orleans and Darrell, Army Artillery, who has been overseas more than two years and has seen active service in campaigns in Africa and Italy.

There are no words that can express the feelings of this community at the news of the death of men like this who volunteer their services to the country and give their lives. It seems that he might have had a less hazardous duty he choose to go forward in this dangerous work. This is what heroes are made of and it is hoped that such gallant sacrifices as these are fully deserved by each of us.

To Mrs. Bontemps and the other members of his family the Echo joins their friends in offering sympathy.

A 14 leading Mississippi restaurant, cafe and hotel proprietors helped to select the 40 items that will be posted.

War Price and Rationing Board chairman explained that "an item" is the usual name of a standard meal or an a la carte serving—for example, "roast beef lunch," "veal cutlet dinner," "tomato salad," "egg sandwich."

Establishments which do not serve all of the 40 selected items must post the April 4-10, 1943 prices of those they do serve, and the April 4-10, 1943, prices of enough other items to fill the poster.

These posters must be prominently displayed in each eating establishment by August 16. In addition it was explained, each proprietor must file three copies of the April 4-10, 1943 prices of the items on his poster with the War Price and Rationing Board by August 21, 1944.

It was also explained that the Restaurant Industry Advisory Council and OPA jointly prepared this regulation because unevenly rising prices have been causing an unfair distribution of scarce supplies and serious rises in the living costs of many workers who must eat meals in public eating places.

Suit was filed today by the Office of Price Administration in the United States District Court at Aberdeen, Mississippi, against Albert T. Ajax, Ajax Lumber Company, at Corinth, Mississippi.

The suit seeks to recover damages in the sum of $71,124.69 for alleged violations of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, OPA said. OPA also seeks to enjoin the defendant from further violations.

The complaint alleges the sale of 63 carloads of yellow pine lumber by Ajax at prices considerably higher than the maximum prices authorized or permitted by such Act and Regulations.

The complaint also alleges that the defendant sold large quantities of yellow pine lumber and invoiced it as Poplar.

It is anticipated that the case will be for trial in the United States District Court at Aberdeen, scheduled to convene the first Monday in October, 1944.

'PIN UP GIRL' DAZZLING TECHNICOLOR MUSICAL AT A. & G. THEATER SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Wherever there's a thumtack—and 3 man—there you'll find Betty Grable!

It's as inevitable as that. For the simple, unadorned fact of the matter is that Betty stands today as America's undisputed No. 1 "Pin-Up Girl."

Seven million service men—from Guadalcanal to Salerno... from Akron to Alaska—whose barracks, tents, planes and tanks her likeness adorns, can't be wrong. Nor can the millions of home-front who have toyed to the pinnacles of screen beauty. What with her pin-up status, and her personal contributions to morale-building in hospitals, army camps, naval stations and other points of troop concentration throughout the country, Miss Grable has become a distinctive, streamlined symbol of our times.

Thus, it was no accident that 20th Century-Fox decided to make a motion picture celebrating Miss Grable's eminence in the esteem of the men of the armed forces and the public generally. The spectacular Technicolor production of "Pin Up Girl," which stars Betty Grable, Sunday and Monday at the A. & G. Theatre, is practically a command performance. And in further tribute to her unique position as a sensational real-life personality who warrants a salute in an especially patterned film production, the studio surrounded her with a brilliant array of talent, including John Harvey, Martha Raye, Joe E. Brown and Eugene Pallette, and featuring Charlie Spivak and His Orchestra.

Dedicated to laughs, love and the pursuit of happiness, "Pin Up Girl" is the story of the girl in every serviceman's dreams... set to music, set to dancing, set to laughter in a spectacle of stunning Technicolor beauty in the top 20th Century-Fox tradition of great musicals. The gay extravaganza was produced by William Le Baron.

Lyrics and Music by Mack Gordon and James Monaco—"You're My Little Pin Up Girl," "Time Alone Will Tell," "This Is It," "Once Too Often," "Yankee Doodle Hayride," "The Story of the Very Merry Widow," "Dory," "Carry Tales Out of School," "Red Robins, Bob Whites and Blue Birds."

ORTTE THEATRE WED.-THURSDAY "THE MAN FROM DOWN UNDER"

Charles Laughton brings another of his beloved characterizations to the screen in the first recent film to deal with modern Australia, M-G-M's "The Man From Down Under."

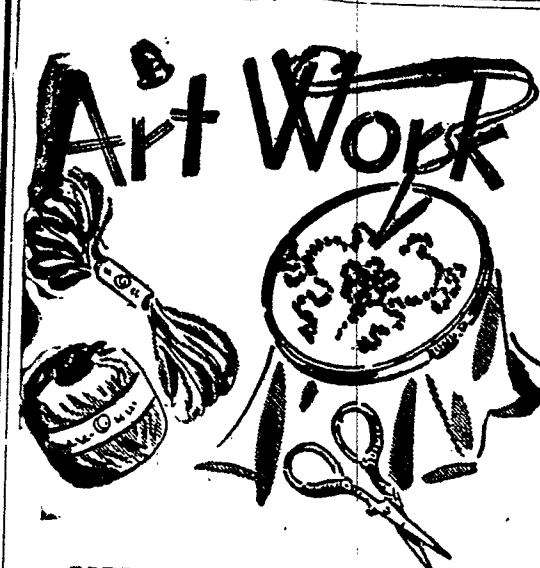

Laughton portrays a lovable Aussie who leaves Belgium at the end of the last war, taking back with him to Australia two refugee children whom he believes to be brother and sister. In his hurry to leave he completely forgets Aggie Dawkins, played by lovely Blinnie Barnes, an English entertainer, is left quite literally waiting at the church. Years pass and the children mature. Donna Reed is now a lovely young girl and Richard Carlson Australia's champion boxer. But hard times hit Laughton. When Aggie reappears as a rich widow, he gambles his inn and loses everything he owns to her. With the outbreak of the war, Laughton enlists in the land army until the threat of Japanese invasion brings him home again—to a commission in the army and into Aggie's arms.

"The Man From Down Under" marks Miss Barnes' first screen appearance in over a year and she is a delightful foil for the Laughton shenanigans. Donna Reed and Richard Carlson, two of M-G-M's most promising young players, advance another notch toward screen stardom with their work as the lovers. Miss Reed wears several outfits of unusual design, created especially for her by Irene, Richard Carlson stars in one of the most exciting boxing bouts ever staged before the cameras.

In the supporting cast, fine portrayals are contributed by Clyde Cook, Laughton's Aussie pal; Horace McNally, who rivals Carlson for the love of Miss Reed; Arthur Shields and Christopher Severn.

Why the final account of Emile Hellmers, Executor of the Estate of Mrs. Katie Hellmers Hord, Deceased, being cause No. 4716 on the docket of said court; should not be approved and said Executor discharged and his bond cancelled; wherein you are an heir at law.

This 20th day of July, A. D. 1944. (SEAL) A. G. FAVRE, Clerk.

Paper Collection Year-Round

Job in Patriotic Duty
Now that our school is closed it is possible that many persons are under the impression that the saving of waste paper in the home no longer is an obligation. The reverse is true.

Never before has the demand been greater. The handlers of waste paper make the suggestion that housewives can help the cause if they will stack their old newspapers and magazines neatly. By putting a strand of twine around the bundle which should be of a size and weight that can be conveniently handled. Information as to where, or how, the waste paper will be disposed of by those who have it, will appear shortly by posters placed in the various public places. It is hoped it won't be long that we rid our homes of a large quantity that has accumulated, due to definite place to send it.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Vasterling with their two sons Carl and Chester, Jr., wife and little daughter are spending some time in their summer home in Waveland.
